The five goals include: (1) students demonstrate academic progress, (2) effective learning, (3) effective teaching, (4) quality educational programs, and (5) quality support programs. • This year’s assessment of performance on the Academic End State resulted in a “B+” rating, which was considerably higher than previous reporting year’s performance of “C”. A number of improvements were built into this year’s report process, including the initiation of a Core Theme Team composed of faculty members to provide support in identifying appropriate indicators, interpreting results, and identifying ways to improve CBC’s performance in this area. New data sources and new indicators were also integrated into the report. Performance on several indicators was very positive, with 20 of 26 indicators receiving the top rating of “good” and five receiving a rating of “poor”. Only a single indicator was rated as “neutral” in performance. • All of the poor ratings fell in the area of student performance in math. As noted, improvement activities related to math have been completed or are underway. • Trustee Mitchell complimented on a report well done. • Trustee Finke commented on page 11-A7 where Yakima Valley Community College ranks third and CBC is at the other end. Has there been any communication with Yakima on how they’ve attained this ranking? Curt replied that Yakima is participating in the “Achieving the Dream” act. • Also, page 23, wonder what percentage of students do take some type of physical fitness? • Trustee Mitchell, pages 10 & 11, Outcome should be zero (0) instead of two (2). Curt confirmed this is an error on the slide, and it should be a zero (0). • Trustee Finke also referred to page 30, as to why only Central Washington University is listed and not several? Curt replied because of the limited data available, and perhaps a note to that effect should be made. President Cummins <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Meeting with administrative exempt (supervisors/asst. supervisors), 	For a copy of full report contact Lupe Perez.
