BEFORE YOU START

Ready to get started? To begin working towards the AA-DTA degree, you simply need to apply and be accepted to CBC. You can apply online at www.columbiabasin.edu.

ABOUT THE PROGRAM

Students who study psychology will gain a broader understanding of the human mind and behavior, develop an understanding of statistics and research methodology, and learn to apply critical thinking in a wide variety of settings.

What can I learn in Psychology?

When you take Psychology courses at CBC, you will learn about the human mind and its many facets and functions, including thinking, feeling, emotions and behavior. You will also learn and reinforce important skills in communication, research and analysis that are valuable in many different career tracks. Psychology is closely linked to other fields of study such as sociology, biology, anthropology, economics, education, philosophy, social work and computer science.

OUT OF CLASS TO DO'S

- Contact your instructors and/or the CBC Career Services Center to find an internship, observation/shadowing experience or a job in the field related to psychology.
- Research transfer schools of interest with your Completion Coach.
- Visit the Academic Success Center for quiet study space, small group study, supplemental instruction, and tutoring assistance.

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

Interested in psychology? Wondering what you can do with a bachelor's degree in psychology? According to the American Psychological Association, "Psychologists are scientists whose work contributes to every aspect of our lives. Careers in psychology can be found in countless fields, from health care and public service to education, business, and technology."

Some of the fields where psychologists work include:

- Counseling and clinical work
- Business/advertising
- Social media
- Data science
- Sustainability
- Education
