CALENDAR TERMS AND DEFINITIONS

1. ACADEMIC YEAR - Four consecutive quarters beginning with summer quarter.
2. GRADUATION - Graduation ceremony scheduled by the College.
3. FINALS - Final exam days as designated on the academic calendar. All exams must be given at the times designated in the finals schedule. Any deviation from the published finals schedule must be done in consultation with the division dean. Extended day, weekend, and distance learning class exams may be given during the last scheduled class, or at a time designated by the instructor. Times selected may not conflict with the published finals schedule.
4. INSTRUCTIONAL DAY - A contract day in which classes are scheduled for students and faculty.
5. INSTRUCTIONAL YEAR - Three consecutive academic quarters beginning with fall quarter.
6. NON-INSTRUCTIONAL DAYS - Days within the instructional year which the College is open, but there are no classes scheduled. These are not contract days for the instructional faculty. They may be contract days for the counselor and librarian faculty.
7. PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT DAYS - Three scheduled in-service days each instructional year during which faculty engage in assessment work required by the College's assessment plan for accreditation purposes and/or in scheduled professional development activities related to scholarship of teaching and learning.
8. STUDENT SUCCESS DAYS - Three scheduled in-service days each instructional year occurring on the non-instructional day immediately preceding the first day of finals during which faculty engage in student-success-related activities.
